White Sorghum (Milo)

As the numbers of health-conscious and gluten-intolerant consumers increase, so does the demand for products that meet their needs. Products made with sorghum, a nourishing, drought-resistant and gluten-free grain, provide an excellent choice to the food industry.

Consumers of gluten-free foods must be conscious of food labels. They care about what they eat, and they pay attention to the ingredients. That's why it's essential to partner with a proven supplier – one who understands the risks and delivers, time and again.

SB&B is the preferred U.S. handler and processor of food-grade White Sorghum. For more than ten years, we've delivered excellent quality, contaminant-free varieties, with a customer-focused, family approach that inspires confidence from our customers.
